

WHITLOCKS OF CHOLESBURY, BUCKINGHAMSHIRE - UPDATE

As the first step to determine if there is any truth to the speculation that several of the Whitlock families in America originate in Cholesbury, I ordered a copy of the Cholesbury parish registers 1576-1901, published by the Buckinghamshire Family History Society. While there are several Baldwin family entries included in registers, there is no mention of any Whitlocks either baptized there or married or buried there.

While hopefully other Buckinghamshire records may shed further light on the connection between the Whitlocks and the Baldwins, it is looking more like Cholesbury was a Baldwin location and not a Whitlock one.
