

WHITLOCKS OF CHOLESBURY, BUCKINGHAMSHIRE - UPDATE

Part of my justification for the week long research trip to Salt Lake City was to do an in depth analysis of Buckinghamshire records and see if I could determine once and for all if there was any proof of Cholesbury being the place of origin of the Whitlock family and their Parker and Baldwin descendants in America. I was able to determine that the vast majority of available Buckinghamshire parish registers have been recorded and are included in the Family Search files.

Shown below are the entries in my database for Buckinghamshire from 1538-1624. This includes all the Family Search entries to 1620.

I think we can discount all the entries for Sir James Whitlock (1570-1632) who married Elizabeth Bulstrode in Buckinghamshire in 1602. They had several of their children baptized locally. This family is well documented enough that we are fairly certain the John Whitlock born about 1624 who emigrated to America, was not closely connected with this family.

The Whitteleche family from Tingewick is new to me but I don't think adds anything.

I show no family for Henry Whitlock who married Winifred Ball at Ivinghoe in 1624.

The connection to Colnbrook, near Langley in Buckinghamshire is interesting. There was an Edward Whitlock shown living there in 1604. His widow Isabel leaves a will dated Feb.23,1632 and proved May 1633. The will mentions Elizabeth the daughter of Edward Whitlock.

Great Brickhill is on the border with Bedfordshire and the children of William Whitlock who married Elizabeth Styles there in 1612 were baptised and buried at Woburn, Bedfordshire. Little Horwood is just west of Great Brickhill.

None of this yields any possible connection to Cholesbury and my conclusion is that the only connection to Cholesbury is through the Baldwin family who we know lived there. Rose, Hannah and John Whitlock who all come to Massachusetts in the early 1600's have to be from somewhere else and are not necessarily related.
