

ORIGINS OF WHITLOCK (CONT)

Bjorn Witlox has been doing some interesting research into the origins of the name. In a recent email he mentions:

In Ergolding Germany a 6th century grave was found containing skeletons with YDNA closely resembling mine. The grave also contained a particular glass bowl. In the New Forest Hampshire, Wihtlac territory, a grave with such a glass bowl was found as well. My ancestors definitely belonged to the group carrying these glass bowls. Call it Merovingians, call it Franks and in Wessex call it Saxons. Same thing.

<http://www.pase.ac.uk/jsp/DisplayPerson.jsp?personKey=-27821&pr4=0#pr4>

Wihtlac 1 (Male)

Persons called 'Wihtlac' in Domesday Book

Factoid List

Recorded Name (11)

Personal Relationship (5)

Possession (11)

Bjorn lives in Holland and is part of the WHITLOCK90 family. He shares DNA with the WHITLOCK02H family and most of the Virginia Whitlock families