Dear Peter -

I've recently learned that ^{Wife 12} George W. Whitlock died 13 Apr. 1901 ^d and is buried in Mc Dowell Cemetery which is just outside Dwight, Livingston county, Illinois. You may want to add that to your records. Still not found much more on his father Abel nor his grandfather Robert.

The enclosed, from the Newberry Library's genealogical index gave me tender smile. I don't know whether the index is still a workable tool. I had never seen it mentioned before. Please don't return these pages. If you know that the index is still useful I'll ask our state library to send it to me again and make us better copies,

I have a question - are there indexes for the Canadian censuses? I found some ancestors of my mother's mother line because I knew the town they'd lived in but her father's line is also Canadian. For them I don't know the locality.

I hope all is well with you and the family.

As ever,

Noël-Louise Ross.
