

STRAYS

30th May 1819. <sup>W</sup> RICHARD ISAAC WHITELOCK. Baptism St. Andrews Plymouth.
Parents Thomas & Elizabeth. Father's Occupation.
<sup>WT164</sup> Sawyer - Plymouth Dock.

Thos. Whitelock marriage to Grace Landry 18th January 1813. <sup>-M-</sup>
Stoke Damerall (Seaman).

Eliza Whitelock (Nee Perkins) Lived at 26. St. Mary Street. Stonehouse Plymouth
1893-7. (Cyril's Grandmother)

Jim's Comments.

Richard Isaac Whitelock. Baptised 30 May 1819 at St. Andrews. Parents Thomas and Elizabeth. I have a marriage for Thomas and Elizabeth. Thomas Whitelock married Elizabeth Isaacs at Stoke Damerall on the 7th October 1811. (Note the "Isaac" connection). I also have three other baptisms for Thomas and Elizabeth. 1. Ann. Born 19.10.1817 and baptised at Morice Street Wesleyan Chapel. Devonport on 3.11.1817. 2. Mary Ann born 30.3.1821 and bapised at the same chapel on 31.3.1821. 3. William Henry born 15.2.1831 and baptised at Salem Independant Chapel, Devonport. 1.3.1831. Next there is a monumental inscription at Stoke Damerall Churchyard. Thomas Whitelock husband of Elizabeth died 12.1.1848 aged 57 years.

I also have the following: <sup>WR-41</sup>

1. Mary Ann, daughter of Richard and Grace (Bridgman) Whitelock. Labourer. Born 10-2-1820. Baptised at Mount Street Independant Chapel. Devonport 8-3-1820. 2. Catherine Ann, daughter of Richard and Grace, Born 28.11.1826 Baptsied at the same chapel 11-3-1827. Now the marriage register which Peter is compiling shows that Richard Whitlock married Grace Bridgman at Buckland Filliegh. North Devon on 11 July 1811, and I also have a daughter, Sally, baptised there on 27 October 1811. (I notice that in the marriage register, Peter associates this Richard with one of his "X" miscellaneous records, X208. On checking the files I find that this is an 1881 census. Richard would have been over 90 then and back at Buckland Filliegh again). However, it is obviously the same Richard, as the baptism records at Mount Street Chapel definitely states Richard and Grace (Bridgman) Whitelock. Now there are two points about all this. According to a record I have from Peter, this Richard was the son of Thomas and Rebecca Whitlock (Langtree) Baptised 1783. <sup>WT-9</sup> So this is your line as Richard would have been a brother of Christopher and also they had a brother Thomas, which I think was the Thomas we have been discussing above who married Elizabeth Isaac. The only thing is he was baptised in 1787, so he would have been 60-61 when he died and not 57, but I am not too worried about that, because the M.I. may be a mistake. The only cencus that would apply would be the 1841, but this won't reveal the place of birth. I have'nt seen the Plymouth records, from what I have said above, obviously your other Thomas Whitelock who married Grace Landry is somebody different. I really have no idea here, except I have a Thomas baptised at Bideford in 1791, son of Philip and Ann Whitlock. It just crossed my mind that as he was a seaman, Bideford - Plymouth may be associated. This is just a thought.

* 86
* 923

Sorry about the terrible typing!
Haste.