Dear Mr. Whitlock:

I was interested in your letter and enclosures on WHITLOCK. I didn't use the form you enclosed because what I have is different. I have one tentative ancestor named Whitlock--HANNAH WHITLOCK

b. ca 1613, Bucks Co., England

d. ca 1645 (?) or 27 Feb 1661(?)
Milford, CT

Hannah is given in various sources as the wife (his first) of my ancestor JOSEPH BALDWIN, b. 1609, Cholesbury, Bucks; d. 2 Nov 1684, Hadley, Mass. He married Hannah 10 Nov 1636, High Wycombe, Bucks.; I was shown, on microfilm, at the High Wycombe library, the original entry in the old records. All of Joseph Baldwin's ancestors were in Bucks as far back as they have been traced and it is likely that those of Hannah Whitlock were also. I have no other information about Hannah^h. I notice in the newsletter that Whitlocks seem to come from various parts of England. There is an interesting story connected with my Hannah Whitlock. Her daughter Mary Baldwin died 4 Apr 1704 from trauma of the Deerfield Massacre. Mary's husband, John Catlin, died in the Massacre (by French and Indians who came down from Canada to Deerfield, Mass.). Her Granddaughter, Elizabeth Catlin Corse, was among the captives taken to Canada and died on the march through the snow. Her great-granddaughter, Elizabeth Catlin Corse, age 8 years, survived the march and was placed with my ancestors, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Roy in Laprairie County and when she became 17 years married a local Frenchman; when he died she married another and they became my ancestors. She had 15 children with her two husbands and died 1766 in Laprairie County, PQ.

I notice you have an interesting newsletter. However, since I have only this one Whitlock ancestor and have about 300 surnames recorded in my genealogy to date, not to mention other lines on which I am working, I will not subscribe to yours at this time. However, feel free to include my information in your records and if you find any listings that seem to provide ancestors for Hannah Whitlock of Bucks, I would be pleased to learn about them. Most of my father's ancestors were French; this is his only English line: Corse, Catlin, Baldwin, Whitlock, Ward (John Catlin's mother was a Ward), Harding (Joseph Baldwin's mother was a Harding), etc--all these seem to have been from Bucks.

Thank you for sending me the material on Whitlock.

Sincerely,

Eugenie Fellows
