

X1287/2

X1287/1

Found this newspaper article in my grandmothers scrape book. No date; or name of newspaper, but other articles she had near it were dated around 1904-8.

FIANCEE ELOPES

Disappointed Lover Weeps and then sends Congratulations

Omaha, Neb. Dec 21 - Wm Newman, of Blair, Neb., came to town accompanied by his best man to be married
yesterday evening and found that Miss Norah Whitlock, the bride elect, had run away from home Saturday in her traveling gown which was to have been her bridal robe
and married a man by the name of Teeters.

Newman, who was sincerely in love; with the young woman, sat down and wept over ~~this~~ severe disappointment.
Then he took a practical view of the situation. He wired his congratulations to Mr and Mrs Teeters and sent the couple a valuable gift he had bought for his intended bride.

Miss Whitlock, who is a trained nurse, had Teeters for a patient at a sanitarium here and carried him through a critical illness. He fell in love with her and proposed. She told him of her engagement to Mr Newman, but Teeters said that it was her privilege to choose the man that she wished to marry, so she chose him.

from The Colorado Magazine
published by The State Historical Society of CO
article name: Ouray, The Opal of America
by Chauncey Thomas ^{MISC}

Page 19:early summer of 1875 Logan Whitlock and others discovered ore; in place in the Ouray district, principally the "Mineral Farm," "Trout," and Fisherman," claims, and first staked out a townsite.

*Just some tid bits
to add to your files
show out —
to
=*
Spindle

X1287/3

From magazine Country Woman M~~ay~~/June 1992
Page 48:

At the Ohio County Historical Museum a display of native son J.W. Whitlock's "Hoosier Boy" - a world-record-breaking hydroplane he built and raced -- along with inventions of his including the first Coin-operated music player.

This is in Rising Sun, IN.

From a relative of Wayne's last fall:

Stated there was a Brank Whitlock who was an ambassador to England about 1918 - thought ~~it~~him a relate of this family.

Also our Logan Whitlock had curly auburn hair - incase you keep that sort of stuff.