Dear Mr. Whitlock,

We have not long moved house, and in doing so many letters which had been filed to answer "as soon as possible" came to light. Amongst them was your letter dated October, 1990. I am ashamed to say that this letter had been pushed at the back of a drawer, and regrettably laid there unanswered.

In this letter you asked for details of our side of the Whitelocke family, although in the interim years - all 6 of them - your interest in the subject may have waned.

On the supposition that you are still interested, I give you a few details, and if you would like more, then just let me know

As you will see from the above address, we live in Kent, having moved from the old address in Chelsfield Village. I note from your News Letter that you visited the Roman Villa at Lullingstone. This was a favourite spot for us to take visitors on a rainy day as it was only 15 minutes from where we lived.

My wife's name is Pat, and we will be celebrating our 40th anniversary next year. We have two living sons, regrettably Graham died 4 years ago.

Simon Kenneth Bulstrode Whitelocke was born 5th April, 1960, Jonathan Keith Bulstrode Whitelocke was born 4th February, 1962.

We all have the name "Bulstrode" amongst our Christian names. In fact my Grandfather was named Bulstrode Harry Whitelocke.

My father, John Bulstrode, had a younger brother Clifford Bulstrode, and a sister named Madelaine. Unfortunately both my father and Cliff have died. Madelaine, however, is still flourishing, in her eighties, and lives in Borough Green in Kent, about half an hours ride from us.

We keep in contact with Ruth Spalding, send each other Christmas cards, and buy her books when they are printed.

As I said at the start of this letter, during these six years, I am not sure if this is still of interest. Although my Grandfather was a Librarian and had time to gather some information on the family, I have not followed through. I picked up a book by "Sir Bulstrode Whitelocke", which was quite interesting, and a letter by the same man.

If you would still like further information, please let me know.

Again, many apologies for this very delayed answer to your letter.

Yours sincerely,

A.(Tony) J.B. Whitelocke
