Nice site to stumble across. Just the other day I was curious as to what the history of the Whitlocks. I live in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada but my father, Charles Joseph Whitlock was born in Spartanburg, South Carolina (no direct relation to another poster on this site). I'm not really up on that side of the family but I'll pry Dad for some more names.
Interesting aside:

I was talking with my Dad the other night and he was telling me about the small southern town he was born in. "Spartanburg", he says. The name rang a bell for me. I realized that last year my company had mapped the town of Spartanburg from air photos. I worked on the job and had no idea it was the town of my father's birth. More unusual is the fact that this was the first job we had ever done in the U.S. Of all the tiny little towns to map, I ended up mapping out a piece of my history.
