Hi,

The following paragraph concerning Whitlock, VA was in some info I received several years ago.

The tradition of the establishment of the Whitlock family in America, as told by John M. Hess, attorney at law, and great grandson of Col. John C.(N. is actually correct) Whitlock, is as follows: "The Whitlocks were of those settlers of Jamestown, Virginia, in 1607, who remained and were scattered, and whom the returning settlers could not find, but who were able to survive in the forest, among the Indians, and that later the town of Whitlock, Virginia, was named for this family....."

This, of course, also brings up the question of Indian ancestors. I had not heard of anything about Indian ancestry until I received this several years ago. I have also seen queries in the forums about this same question. But there doesn't seem to be proof of it according to the answers. I don't know & I really don't know how to find out yet. According to things told my great grandmother was supposed to be part Indian. She married Page Whitlock.

Info I have on George Whitlock is: born in Jamestown or Whitlock, VA; parents - John & Mary; married ca1768 to Mary Minter; died in Granville Co, NC 8/1/1773; children: Anne Minter, John Normont, b. ca1771, Jeremiah Minter, b. ca1773. This info says he was a General in the Revolutionary War. I have found no proof of it & I am also dubious of it because of his death date. It was before the War even started unless it had to do with skirmishes before actual war was declared. I have a copy of his will & an Account of Sales of his property on 2/12/1784 by Robert Malone. He sold the estate upon marriage of the widow. I am assuming he married Mary. There is no mention of Anne at this time, only the boys. Also, in some other info I had received there is in 1763 - Guard
