of a woman, they are both signed Wm. Whitlock and dated 1888 Toledo Ohio. I tried to research the artist, and all I could find was a signed Sarah Huntington Whitlock, Troy N.Y. (Sotheby's has a painting by her from 1853 by her coming up for live auction with a starting bid of $12,500. Maybe a relative or her husband? These paintings could easily be sleepers! Each has an incredibly ornate gold gilded/gilded frame but it is in very fragile and poor condition and would need some heavy repairs or restoration. The painting themselves also have some paint flaking (see pics), the male portrait has 3 holes in the canvas and the female has one small hole and a water mark on the back. The woman is dressed in a black dress with small pleats on the front and a high ruffly white collar. Her hair is dark blonde and is pulled up in the back. The man is dressed also in black with a suit and tie, his hair is darker and he also has a moustache. The backgrounds are black as well as there attire which makes the facial features nearly leap out. Magnificent detail and shades of color. Each measures 35 1/2 inches across and 40 inches high. The painting itself (just the canvas) measures 25 inches across and 30 inches high. This is a super lot and a must for any historical, 19th century, oil painting, portrait, art/artwork or painting collection. Would also be a great restoration project, or just leave them in the original condition, they are wonderful! See pictures below for more details and e-mail with any questions that you may have.
