Amy,

Yes, I have contacted Peter in the past. I subscribe to the family newsletter and recently paid for another year. About a year ago or so, I uploaded my entire "presentation" on the Charles Whitelocks of Cecil County. There were several of them. One married Jane Welsh (the elder). The son married Susanna Emmitt (Emmett). There was also a younger one who married in Baltimore--I have the name--but I'd have to look it up (you didn't have it at the bottom of this e-mail, but I do). There was an additional one in Delaware who married Hannah Gray. The Charles Whitelocks were a mystery until I sat down and analyzed all of the information that was available. I am almost positive that I sent Peter the summary of my work. It included a copy of one of Charles Whitelock's daughter's letters that clearly delineated their relationship and marriage. I know because I distinctly remember zipping up into a compressed folder all of the images of the documents to support my work, scanned copies of the original documents.

Peter should still have that. I'm sure that I also have it on my computer downstairs. I haven't thought about the Charles Whitelocks of Cecil County because I was never able to tie them into my family. That frustrating mystery never got solved and someday in the future I may turn my genealogic eyes back onto that mystery. It'll be a tough one, that's for sure.

Peter and Amy, let me know if you need copies of my analysis on the Charles Whitelocks of Cecil County.

Duane

I'm just now getting back into the genealogical swing of things and was wondering if you had connected with Peter Whitlock of the Whitlock Family Association. His email is <whitlock@one-name.org> and the website is <http://whitlock.castlewebs.net/wfa/index.htm>.

I'll forward you his latest email.

Hello Amy,

I wish I had more time, but OK, let me give you what I know at least right now. Let me start by saying that I can try to defend all of these facts below by scanning in my copies of original documents and sending them to you, if you would like to see proof (that's the way that I work!) unless otherwise noted.

These nine children are definitely not Charles and Hannah Gray's children. Considering the fact that "A" Charles Whitelock may have divorced Hannah in 1786 (remember, I sent you that), he would have been with her from 1772-1786 and this time period coincides with the expected dates of birth for many of these 9 children below. I would love to see your list of the twelve other children that you mention...one of those MIGHT be the ancestor that I'm looking for to connect to! There is suspicion that the Charles Whitelock that married Hannah was the one that came from Lancaster, PA through Isaac Whitelock (Whitelock57 file on the Whitelock Family Association--but this file has LOTS of mistakes!) but that hasn't been proven. So, to make a long story short---I agree with you--the evidence clearly shows that these 9 children are the children of a Charles Whitelock who was married to a Susannah Emmett. ; This Charles Whitelock died August 10, 1802 (per the 1803 Chancery case) and it appears Susannah Whitelock (Emmett) had already died before this time. Incidentally, I've gathered some more information on the Emmetts as well, but haven't processed it all yet.

Yes, Anne Whitelock married Samuel Touchstone and Daniel Victor(y) (later). These are the details that I can give you....Anne married Samuel Touchstone in 1794 in Pennsylvania (1803 Chancery Case), they moved to Baltimore and had two children that died and he left her in 1800, moving to Harford County. They had two children during that time, but none were alive in 1803, presumably dying at a young age. She was married to a Daniel Victor by Feb 1814, but then died somewhere in 1814-1815, according to the chancery case.

Samuel W Whitelock (the above Charles' son), was definitely NOT married to Elizabeth Loftis. 100% certain. That was MY Samuel Whitlock who fathered James H. Whitlock of 1813 (Curious that no site anywhere that I've found on the internet gives that connection....though I have the proof). My Samuel Whitlock married John Loftis's widow....after he died somewhere between 1821-1825. I am not sure which wife this other Samuel W Whitelock took, and Elizabeth Bell certainly could be her...Incidentally, I think that there are records of their children's birth and baptism in Baltimore if you want them....I have them somewhere from one of the genealogical CDs Sharon bought on Maryland church records.

I believe that the Charles Whitelock listed below (where you have "married unknown") married Jane McKinnel in 1800 in Baltimore. I have this man's indentures where he interacted with the McKinnels in the late 1790s, where a wife isn't mentioned, and I have an indenture in 1814 (I think) where he is selling his part of the land from the chancery court case and his wife is listed as "Jane". So I strongly believe this younger Charles Whitelock married Jane McKinnel in 1800....I have more information I think on this marriage...(I haven't reviewed all of the 1780-1790s indentures from Baltimore....I've been too busy!) So I'm only 99% sure on this one though, not 100% yet....

Thank you for the Cowden's marriage date. Did I send you the other pages where her lawyer (or whoever) speaks about his presence at their wedding?....their wedding was in 1793 in Pennsylvania apparently at Samuel Emmett's residence (Susannah's brother)...Elizabeth married him after she moved to her uncle's farm (again, the Samuel Emmett- founder of Emmitsburg, MD!). The indenture where Samuel acquires this land in 1793 is available on the internet...and I recently downloaded that one, too! Anyway, Elizabeth Cowden wasn't happy with her brothers and sued them in 1803 (the other Chancery Court Case of 1803).

I'll continue to process the information that I've got. I've got about 50 pages of 1780s-1790s Baltimore City indentures involving many Whitelock to go through but I just don't have the time. I really would like to find out where MY Samuel Whitlock comes from.....possibilities include the Edward Whitelock that you don't have any information on, and the Isaac Whitelock from Lancaster/Delaware. Do you have any suggestions on where to find out more about Edward Whitelock?

My Samuel Whitlock married Elizabeth Loftis in 1825. He lived in Cecilton, MD and purchased land there as early as 1808. He had six children, but the first threeLouisa (who married William Norris of Delaware), John, and James H. (married to Susan Price), were with a mystery first wife. James H was born in 1813. Do you have any Whitelocks currently in your family tree that do not have posterity worked out?

That would give me an excellent starting point for trying to make a connection with this Samuel Whitlock.....In fact, duh, I need to go back over the list that you gave me and see for myself where I should start.....You mentioned Edward Whitelock....he could be the father or grandfather of my Samuel, couldn't he? I'm really eager to connect up to this family but just can't do it. I have an administration of a Samuel Whitlock dated 1833 from Cecil County that is hopefully my Samuel's administration...but I'm pessimistic that it is going to list his parent's names on there....my fingers are crossed and any suggestions that you have would be very welcomed!

Well, gotta go, please keep in touch as I make important discoveries along the way!
Two minds are better than one and I actually have fun sharing with you what I'm discovering. I really hope to prove that I link into this family somehow. I just have to keep looking for the proof.... (Actually, I have 4 wills from Maryland State Archives on the way now!!! :))

Take care Amy and keep in touch,
Duane

Oh boy! This is exciting and complicated at the same time.

So I had the following children linked to Charles Whitelock and Hannah Gray. The question is, should they all be linked now to Charles Whitelock and Susannah Emmett/Emmitt (I see the surname spelled two ways), since the Chancery Case of 1814 lists nine children?

John Whitelock (married Mary Montgomery)
Charles Whitelock (married unknown)
Anne Whitelock (married Samuel Touchstone/ Daniel Victor(y))
Elizabeth Whitelock (married William Cowden)
Susan (Susannah) Whitelock (married Archibald Teal)
Rebecca Whitelock (married Mathias Dashiell)
Elisha Whitelock (married Susan Adams)
Samuel Whitelock (married Elizabeth Bell or Elizabeth Loftis or both?)
James Whitelock (seems to have died before 1814)

So is Poland is now in Mahoning County, and used to be part of Trumbull, just to the north. (I had another ancestor born in Mecca, Trumbull, OH in 1832.)

I had heard from a Charles Harrington III via email in 2004 (don't have his email address still) regarding the Cowden descendants. Elizabeth Whitelock married William Cowden 23 Apr 1793. They had a son, Dr. Joseph Cowden (d. 22 Feb 1872), Bellevue, Jackson, IA), who had a son Dr. John W. Cowden (d. 23 Feb 1891)...other assorted siblings, too.

Amy,

You're my only contact with proven relation to this family, so I thought you might find this interesting....

Charles Whitelock Jr, ((son of Charles Sr who owned "Whitelock's Discovery" and had a will of 1752)), the same Charles who fathered 9 children that are delineated in the 1814 Chancery Case.....I previously discovered his death date and e-mailed that to you (August 2nd, 1802 by my memory--don't have it in front of me right now)....

In my searchings, I have come across a letter written by Elizabeth Cowden. Elizabeth Cowden alias Whitelock, was a daughter of said Charles Whitelock and that is clearly shown in the 1814 Chancery Case previously mentioned as well as the attached letter. In this letter, she names her mother's name....Susanna, late of Cecil County. Her letter is somewhat confusing, but it mentioned her uncle, Samuel Emmett. So Elizabeth Cowden's mother, Susanna Emmett, of Cecil County, Maryland is probably the one and the same mentioned in Rebecca Emmett's will of 1793 here:

http://www.emmitsburg.net/archive_list/articles/people/histories/maryland_emmits.htm

So Charles Jr married Susanna Emmett who then died some time before this letter.

This (just about)proves the linkage of the Emmetts and the said Charles Whitelock. Boy, I wish I could prove that MY family connected to this Whitelock family....I feel like I know this particular family almost better than my own... But at least you can take your maternal lineage a few more generations back!!!!

Sharon and Alida, My theory is that our Samuel Whitelock moved to Cecilton somewhere between 1805 and 1813 and we know he bought a lot of land in Cecil County.. maybe he was starting a new life after losing his first wife or something...who knows....I'm searching county by county looking for any Samuel Whit(e)locks in other counties that may have sold/bought land in that time frame....its taking forever, but I'm definitely discovering some neat stuff along the way....Somerset had some info on Elisha, and Baltimore County is a gold-mine for this particular Whitelock family....including Samuel W. Whitelock....but not our Samuel, yet....

I'll keep looking....

Duane

Take care everyone,

Duane
