Nationwide man in Looe

AS TRAVEL boundaries extend and road improvements reduce travel time; environmentally attractive areas previously considered too far from large conurbations begin to enter the frame.

Looe can certainly be counted among these latest additions to the list of popular commuter areas for Plymouth following improvements to the A38 at Saltash.

This is the view of David Whitlock, the recently appointed manager of the Looe office of Nationwide Anglia Estate Agents - Oats Partridge.

At 24, he is one of the youngest managers in Nationwide's network of more than 500 offices but he has the experience gained from working as a negotiator at Oats Partridge main office.

He said that house prices in Looe are beginning to level off after an intense period of rapid increases.
